E rau rangatira mā, e ngā mātāwaka e ngā hau tīpua hākinakina e takatū nei i o tātou takiwā, huri noa i te motu, tēnā koutou, tēnā tātou katoa.

This year marks an important chapter in the history of the Māori Sports Awards since they were founded by the late Albie Pryor 17 years ago.

We honour King Tuheitia as patron of the Māori Sports Awards, a role held by his late mother, and we induct three more Māori sporting legends who represented New Zealand on countless occasions as we gather in Rotorua to continue the legacy of celebrating Māori sporting excellence and achievement.

I am proud to support the 2007 National Māori Sports Awards because this evening is about acknowledging the contribution Māori make to our healthy and proud sporting nation by participating in sports.

It is ceremonies like these that inspire excellence in our rangatahi to achieve and realise their full potential in whatever they do and in this case, sports.

Finally, I wish to congratulate all the finalists who continue to be ambassadors for their chosen sports and role models for future generations.

Kāti, ka nui taku hari me taku koa ki te kaupapa o te pō, tēnā koutou katoa.

Heoi anō

It is my pleasure, as Mayor of Rotorua, to extend a very warm and friendly welcome to all sports men and women and their supporters attending the 2007 Māori Sports Awards.

Rotorua, as nature's wonderland, has a lot to offer the 1.8 million overseas and domestic visitors it is our pleasure to host each year. We offer an adventure playground of outdoor activities, with its lakes and forests, parks, and the awesome geothermal activity and natural hot pools.

During your visit to our city I hope you have an opportunity to take advantage of our adventure playground of outdoor activities, with its lakes and forests, parks and the awesome geothermal activity and natural hot pools. We have international standard quality accommodation and restaurants, and a wide range of quality visitor attractions from the quiet and peaceful to action-packed adventure and we trust you have some time to enjoy them.

We have been judged New Zealand's Most Beautiful City for its size four times, most recently in 2006, and take pride in presenting our city as clean and green. Fabulous gardens often provide the visitor with great photographic opportunities due to their beauty and geothermal activity.

 REALISING MĀORI POTENTIAL

Leith Comer
 Chief Executive Te Puni Kōkiri

There is a whakatauki (proverb) that goes He kanohi kitea, he ringa i tu – put up your willing hand and be acknowledged.

That seems especially apt for the Māori Sports Awards where we acknowledge the very best in Māori sport – participants, administrators, referees and coaches.

The mission of Te Puni Kōkiri (Ministry of Māori Development) is a simple one, to help Māori realise their potential. In practice this means emphasising and finding ways to lever off everything that is positive about Māori.

Māori sport holds wonderful examples of Māori making positive life choices. Sport also has strong social elements, with athletes and their supporters coming together for competition, and in the process making life-long friendships.

For all these reasons, Te Puni Kōkiri is proud to be supporting the 2007 Māori Sports Awards.

Leith Comer, Chief Executive

Te Whanau O Waipareira Trust

The 1980s was a decade of big change instigated by those who we now consider to be our activist leaders. It was the beginning of Te Kohanga Reo, Treaty claims were in full swing, more Māori were going to universities than ever, and the idea of "by Māori, for Māori" being coined by many.

In West Auckland, there were over 50 pan-tribal organisations delivering education, sports, training and more to Māori. Yet, they had little control over the city's development and were stuck in a cycle of erratic funding with no real co-ordination of resources and skills. They were all dealing with problems created by rapid urbanisation. Decades of high unemployment, poor housing, low education and more were continuing to seriously undermine the potential of urban Māori.

However, Government funders did not favour small and loose groupings. A structure was needed to influence development and the groups came together to form Te Whanau o Waipareira Trust in 1984.

Tamariki Sport & Cultural Day

rā o ngā tamariki

"Fostering pride and sports participation for our Māori youth of tomorrow"

THE ASB TRUSTS

Co-hosted by Te Kura Kaupapa Māori ā Rohe o Māngere

Following the vision of the late Albie Pryor, the Tamariki Sport & Cultural Day began in 1999 on the turf of our founder's many rugby battles - Eden Park.

The purpose of the Tamariki Sport & Cultural Day is to provide tamariki from kura kaupapa (Māori immersion schools) and bilingual units from mainstream schools with an opportunity to take part in sport - including the revival of traditional Māori sports - and cultural activities.

The event provides a link to elite Māori sport role models and the positive contribution they are making for ngā tamariki and the wider community.

The Tamariki Sport & Cultural Day also promotes and fosters a sense of mana (prestige), ihi (inspiration) and wehi (awe) to nga tamariki.

In 2008, this event will be co-hosted in Rotorua with Te Papa Tākaro o Te Arawa.
