Mana Tuku Iho

"Inherited mana from our sporting greats"

Māori Sporting Greats - Ngā Toa Tākaro Māori

A book to be launched in 2015 to coincide with the 25th Anniversary of the National Māori Sports Awards, by the publisher Te Tohu Taakaro o Aotearoa Charitable Trust (The Trust)

As the name 'Mana Tuku Iho' implies – it will be... "Inherited mana from our sporting greats"

The objective behind this long overdue publication is to tell the nation of Māori sporting success since the 1880's. Furthermore, it will showcase how Māori have provided and contributed to the success of our healthy and proud sporting nation over these past 132 years.

Some preliminary areas that will be covered in the book:

- ▲ Profiling Māori sporting legends (selected by a national panel) in chronological order.
- ▲ Māori World Champions
- ▲ Māori success in sport (alphabetical order) on the national and international stage.
- ▲ Dual and triple National representatives, including multi whanau national and international representatives.
- ▲ History on Māori sporting organisations and their memorabilia.
- ▲ Maori in officiating and journalism.
- ▲ The Social, Cultural and Economic benefits to the nation of Māori sporting success and its impacts
- ▲ Education and Health benefits of Māori sporting achievements.
- ▲ The employment successes through sport of Māori sporting achievement.
- ▲ Traditional Māori games and pastimes.
- ▲ A proposed section by one or two (TBC) of NZ's top sports writers on their views and collation of Māori sporting greats.

Any Māori sporting history on athletes, organisations and memorabilia,
please forward to info@maorisportsawards.co.nz

Chairman - Pine Harrison BA

E nga iwi, e nga reo, e nga karangarangatanga maha o nga hau e wha, nga mihi tino nui ki a koutou katoa.

It is indeed my pleasure and privilege as Chairman of Te Tohu Taakaro o Aotearoa Charitable Trust to express our Board's heartfelt gratitude to everyone who contributed to the success of the 2010 Trillian Trust Maori Sports Awards celebration held at the Pacific Events Centre, Manukau City and the Tamariki Sports and Cultural Day.

To the many individuals, organizations, community and sporting leaders and people who have provided sponsorship, expert advice and guidance and also voluntary support our many, many thanks.

I would also like to make special mention of the contribution to the events made by Maori Television and commend the professionalism of presenter Te Arahi Maipi. We wish the Maori Television team every success in delivering to viewers at home Rugby World Cup 2011

The Board can be justifiably proud of the way in which these important events were conducted and my thanks go out to the Board members for their support and encouragement during the year. We extend a very warm welcome to Yvonne O'Brien who has joined our team of Trustees. As a member of the Senior management of Te Wananga o Aotearoa, Yvonne brings with her a range of skills and experience that will contribute immensely to the forward momentum of Te Tohu Taakaro o Aotearoa Trust.

*E ngā mata-ā-waka o te motu,
Tēnā koutou katoa*

To our many stakeholders, I personally thank you all for the straightforwardness to which you engage with me in formalising application support for the Trust.

This again has enabled us to showcase outstanding achievement by our Māori athletes on the national and international stages, including 14 World champions, 9 scholarship recipients, Māori All Blacks defeating Ireland & England in their centennial year, and our supreme winner, All Black Hosea Gear.

The Trust has been very busy with two new initiatives: Development of the 2011 Tamariki Sports & Cultural Day with a Rugby World Cup theme and the research development of the book – Mana Tuku Iho / Māori sporting greats, to be launched in 2015.

Our operations have been able to employ one of its administrators on a full time basis, thanks to specific operational sustainability support.

To our Patron, Kaumatua, Trust Chair, Deputy Chair, Trustees and staff, sincere thanks for the ease you give me in carrying out this impressive kaupapa that our founder has left for us to nurture.

*Me te mihi nui mō ā koutou manaakitanga

World class All Black, Māori All Black, Hurricanes and Wellington Lions winger became the 20th supreme winner of the Māori sportsman of the year recipient.

All Black wing Hosea Gear followed his brother Rico into the most famous rugby jersey of them all in 2008. The Hurricanes flyer made his debut in the Bledisloe Cup clash with Australia in Hong Kong in 2008, before being capped once again against the same opposition a year later in Wellington. He scored his first try for his country against England at Twickenham as New Zealand won 26-16 in 2010.

He made his breakthrough with North Harbour but moved north to Wellington as a 19 year old. In 2008 he broke Bernie Fraser's try-scoring record for the province with 14 tries in 12 appearances in the Air New Zealand Cup, while he scored another eleven the following season. He played age grade rugby for his country and was an impressive exponent of Sevens rugby - winning Commonwealth Games gold as part of an impressive 2010.

A Maori international, Gear featured in the 2010 June matches and his form earned him a recall to Graham Henry's All Black set up, where he finally made his mark, scoring five tries on their Grand Slam tour.

Senior Māori Sportswoman

Hineahuone

Joelle King Ngāti Porou

Texas Open winner, Commonwealth Games gold and silver medallist, NZ Open champion, and Waikato / Waipa Sportswoman of the year. Presented by Mrs Tilly Reedy on behalf of Fletcher Construction.

Hineahuone

When Tane began life for all living things he searched in vain for a way to perpetuate life in his form. He was sent by the spiritual beings to a place called Kurawaka where the soil was red and fertile. From Papatuanuku's loins he fashioned in the earth the form of a woman and he breathed life into her – she was the first human being – she was Hineahuone, Hine who comes from the Earth. Tane mated with her and begat Hinetitama. Hineahuone is acknowledged as the ultimate human eponymous ancestor for all genealogies, she is the spring of humankind or the ultimate woman.

It is for this reason that the Māori Sportswoman should be named in the spirit of an illustrious beginning, she is truly ultimate.

Ranginui symbolises the male line and even Tane was later to be renamed great Tane of Rangi. Ranginui is the Maori symbol for the beginning and together with Papatuanuku they are the Maori genesis. Even today Papatuanuku is acknowledged on all occasions when Maori gather, she is the mother, she fees life into all living things, plant and animal, there is no beginning beyond the Earth Mother.

It is appropriate that the junior sportspersons both boy and girl should carry of Ranginui and Papatuanuku. They are the seeds from which men and women grow.

Tāne the bringer of daylight, the fountain of life to all living things, Tāne the beginning, Tāne the source of knowledge, Tāne who discovered Te Ira Tangata and created the ongoing generations of mankind. It was Tāne also who committed the first sin and right until this time has caused the imbalance between man and woman.

Te Toi Huarewa

Cameron Leslie Ngāpuhi

Former paralympian and current World Champion receiving his taonga from Mrs Noeline Walsh.

Te Toi Huarewa

It was Toi himself (the supreme being) who sent forth his sacred messengers Apa Whatukura from Te Toi a Rangi the uppermost heaven to see who could climb the heavens in search of knowledge. Both Whiro and Tane responded to the challenge, but only Tane was successful. The reason that Tane was successful was that he chose to climb by the routes Te Toi Huarewa and Te Aratiatia, accordingly, he reached Tikitiki o Rangi and was given "Nga Kete o te Wananga" the sacred baskets of knowledge and the sacred stones of education.

The name Te Toi Huarewa has been chosen for the award to sportsperson with a disability. In order to achieve success Te Toi Huarewa signifies whanau support, diligence and dedication. Furthermore, the prize at the end of this pathway is knowledge, understanding and great achievement.

Māui Tikitiki-ā-Taranga

Maui was the youngest child of Hine Taranga hence the name Maui top knot of Taranga. Maui was renowned for many extraordinary supernatural deeds, he brought fire to mankind from Mahuika's fingernails, he fished up the North Island using the Matika- special fishhook made from the jawbone of his grandmother Murirangawhenua, Maui slowed down the sun to give us a 24 hour day, Maui was magical and mysterious. Maui was both brave and frivolous, Maui was a gambler, he took on all odds.

It is appropriate therefore that the trophy of Maui is awarded to the Sports Administrator since the administrator has to do battle on all fronts, requires a repertoire of talent and devices in order to be successful.

Therefore Te Aratiatia denotes the extremely unique battles that Umpires and referees have to tolerate with players in a chosen sport. They have to be vigilant within the decisions they make and passionate in the way they deliver those decisions.

Ngā Ika a Whiro

When Tāne ascended up to the heavens to seek "Ngā Kete o te Wananga" (the baskets of knowledge), his older brother Whiro was furious; he considered he had more right to the task than Tāne. So Whiro sent plagues of insects, reptiles and birds to attack Tāne, which complicated his task; but with the assistance of Tawhiri-mātea (god of the winds), he was able to continue until he arrived at the summit of the heavens. On his return expedition, Whiro and his plague again attacked Tāne; when he finally reached earth, Whiro insisted that he should be the custodian of the treasures.

Tāne with his supporters rejected his demands so Whiro was eventually exiled to the underworld where he still dwells, and continually endeavors to wreak havoc for the gods and mankind.

Tamariki Sport & Cultural Day

rā o ngā tamariki

The 2010 Tamariki Sport & Cultural Day was co-hosted at Te Kura Kaupapa Māori a Rohe o Mangere on Friday November 26.

Following the vision of the late Albie Pryor, the Tamariki Sport & Cultural Day began in 1999 on the turf of our founder's many rugby battles - Eden Park.

The purpose of the Tamariki Sport & Cultural Day is to provide tamariki from kura kaupapa (Māori immersion schools) and bilingual units from mainstream schools with an opportunity to take part in sport - including the revival of traditional Māori sports - and cultural activities.

The event provides a link to elite Māori sport role models and the positive contribution they are making for ngā tamariki and the wider community.

The Tamariki Sport & Cultural Day also promotes and fosters a sense of mana (prestige), ihi (inspiration) and wehi (awe) to ngā tamariki.

TENNIS

Overview | tirohanga whanui

INTRODUCTION

The history of Māori tennis is littered with a glimmering array of people and events:

History relies on the memory of,

Those who have created it, those who have witnessed it, those who have recorded it

Those who remember it, those who have been told about it

Those who have heard about it, and no doubt, those who have embellished it!

That we can look back and see where we've come from. So too can we now look forward and know where we're going!

ORIGINS

The history of Māori tennis is one of remarkable achievement and commitment, from the early days when improvised tennis courts were carved out at marae and whare, to its heyday in the 1950s, when the number of Māori from iwi throughout the country taking part in Māori tournaments rivaled and even outstripped participation in Pakeha events. Along the way there have been some colourful and hugely talented players who have excelled on the world stage.

Māori quickly picked up the skills and social opportunities of the game shortly after it was introduced to the country in the 1870s. Māori were soon excelling at the sport, and widespread competitions were being organised among hapu and iwi by the turn of the century.

IMPROVISATION

While it is not certain in which region tennis was first played by Māori in New Zealand, it is known, Māori were playing tennis in these formative years in regions such as Hawkes Bay, Wanganui and the East Coast. While it would be overstepping the mark to suggest Māori tennis began in Hawkes Bay, it is clear that tennis was very strong in this area in the late 19th Century. Photographs and anecdotes reveal Māori from Ngāti Kahungunu working on large farms and sheep stations in Hawkes Bay picking up the sport in the 1890s.

One thing is certain, the game was being played to a high standard by Māori in the 1890s and by the early 1900s the sport was established with hapu and iwi throughout the country. Tennis courts had become established at many marae and were carefully maintained in prominent areas adjacent to marae buildings.

Stones abound of Māori in the early days ingeniously scraping out a surface for a court, and improvising with make-shift nets of string, flax or other materials stretched across the court. Lines would often be
