Hon Dr Pita Sharples

Minister of Māori Affairs

The 20th Maori Sports Awards gives us many reasons to celebrate tonight. This awards evening is now the nucleus of a project embracing an annual Tamariki Day, Maori Sports Award scholarships, a Maori Sports Hall of Fame, a Maori sports research and data base, and more.

We must thank the hardy band who have driven this kaupapa forward over the years, to cement in place the vision of the late Albie Pryor, Dame Te Atairangikaahu and Sir John Turei – who are all surely with us in spirit.

It's been a tumultuous year for Maori, sport, and Maori sport. We had the public battle for coverage of next year's Rugby World Cup on Maori Television. MTS is the only free-to-air channel broadcasting all the games. A huge amount of work is still going on behind the scenes to ensure that Maori share in every aspect of this sporting, cultural and commercial extravaganza.

We've seen moves towards a national umbrella group for Maori sports organisations, to help Maori achieve rangatiratanga through participation in sport.

We celebrated the centenary of Maori Rugby with some classic victories over NZ Barbarians, Ireland and England, and a published and televised history of the Maori All Blacks. Then the NZ Maori Rugby League team drew 18-18 with England before the Kiwis triumphed in the Four Nations series.

And once again, we've enjoyed a series of world-class achievements by Maori sports men and women, in the Commonwealth Games, various World Cups, World Championships, test matches and national championships. We'll hear more about them tonight – as well as the coaches, administrators and supporters who help them realise their dreams.

But let's face it, it's the absolute dedication and the blood, sweat and tears of our athletes that earned them the victories we celebrate, so it is the athletes and sportspeople who are properly the focus of the evening.

*Ka nui nga mihi ki a koutou katoa.
Kia ora,*

Dr Pita Sharples,
Minister of Maori Affairs.

Len Brown

Mayor of Auckland

Kia ora,

It is my pleasure as the new Mayor of Tamaki Makaurau, to welcome all sportsmen and women attending the 2010 Maori Sports Awards.

It is appropriate that on the 20th anniversary of the Maori Sports Awards that they should be hosted in the new Auckland, the world's largest Maori city and therefore the natural home of these awards.

In the new Auckland Council, the electors have voted in three Maori councillors, Des Morrison from Franklin, Alf Filipaina from Manukau and Jami-Lee Ross from Howick. We have appointed a Maori statutory Board, and Councillor Sir John Walker from Manurewa-Papakura has been appointed the Ambassador for Auckland.

In his maiden speech, Sir John pointed out the huge role sport has to play in the development of our young people.

He recalled the support that he received as a youngster growing up on Auckland's southside, support vital for him to achieve his potential as a world class athlete.

He wants to ensure that kind of opportunity is a feature of the new Auckland and that is something I as the Mayor of the new Auckland and the new council totally endorse.

For those of you from outside of Tamaki Makaurau, I hope you get time to enjoy the greatest city in the world while you are here. From those Aucklanders who have yet to enjoy everything the southside has to offer, please take advantage of that opportunity.

Congratulations to the organisers of the 2010 Maori Sports Awards. I know you have worked to ensure the awards are a successful and memorable occasion. I look forward to having you as guests in the new Auckland, and wish all the sports people nominated for awards, all the very best.

Len Brown
Mayor of Auckland

REALISING MĀORI POTENTIAL

Leith Comer

Chief Executive Te Puni Kōkiri

The previous twenty years certainly honours and fulfils the vision and legacy of the late Albie Pryor - to promote and encourage Māori athletes in the pursuit of excellence in their chosen sports.

From the very first Māori Sports Awards in 1991, we now are the proud participants of a national sporting event that attracts outstanding Māori sportspeople and supporters alike.

The Awards event quickly grew in popularity such that Te Tohu Taakaro o Aotearoa Charitable Trust was established, to co-ordinate the event and to promote and support excellence in Māori sporting endeavours.

I acknowledge the role of Te Tohu Taakaro o Aotearoa. They have worked tirelessly for twenty years promoting Māori sporting achievement and supporting Māori sportspeople to obtain excellence in their sporting pursuits. Since 1991, we have seen more than twenty sports stars be acknowledged and celebrated at the awards ceremony. This included the ilk of Waimarama Taumaunu (the first award recipient), Eric Rush, Cathy Millen, Michael Campbell and many more.

The Trust has evolved from showcasing sporting stars to also becoming a focal point for the many sporting bodies and the up and coming sporting stars.

Finally I want to pay tribute to all our outstanding sportspeople who have seized the moment in their chosen sport and gone on to achieve local, regional, national and international success.

This year's recipients and the ones from the previous twenty years grasped opportunities that came their way with both hands and their achievements are theirs, their whānau's, their communities' and their country's. To all our Māori sportspeople, we join you to celebrate your current achievements, and the many more to come.

TE WHANAU O WAIPAREIRA TRUST

Te Whanau o Waipareira Trust, now headed by John Tamihere CEO was established in 1984 at a time of rapid urbanisation and on the back of decades of high unemployment, poor housing, and low education among urbanised Māori. We know that one in nine Māori live in urban locations, with 70 percent of who are living away from their tribal roots. Te Whanau o Waipareira Trust was established for this reason, to meet the needs of urban Māori disconnected from their traditional support systems.

The Trust has a national profile and has refined its co-ordination of people and resources, delivers targeted services and ultimately increased its assets and businesses. It is seen as a successful organisation with an astute approach to business and to the Government sector. It is also an organisation with a growing reputation for being proactive and one that strives to ensure a sense of cultural identity and pride in urban people.

Music Therapy Centre

The Raukatauri Music Therapy Centre was named by its founder, Hinewehi Mohi, after her daughter Hineraukatauri. The name comes from the legend of Hine Raukatauri, the guardian of flutes, the personification of music.

The Goddess Raukatauri is the case moth who lives in her cocoon that hangs from trees in the bush. The female case moth cannot fly but remains in her cocoon waiting to be united with her mate drawn to her by her beautiful voice.

When Hinewehi's daughter was born with severe cerebral palsy she was reminded of the story of the goddess trapped in her case – just as Hineraukatauri is trapped in her body, incapable of much independent movement.

Music therapy liberates Hineraukatauri, giving her an opportunity to express herself and communicate in a special way. Her whanau is proud to be able to share the wonderful gift of music therapy with over 100 other children with disabilities at the Raukatauri Music Therapy Centre in Auckland.

We hope you may feel moved to make a small contribution to this worthy cause tonight in the envelopes on your tables.

"My grandmother recorded the original voice track of George Nepia over 20 years ago when he was staying at their house in Hastings.

Papa George was my grandfather's half-brother (same mother) and often called in when traveling between Masterton and Ruatoria.

My grandmother recorded Papa George singing a number of songs including this version tonight of 'Beneath the Māori Moon'.

Ben Tawhiti will play the guitar which accompanies Papa George's voice and we share verses and then sing together on the chorus."

Tamariki Sport & Cultural Day

The 2010 Tamariki Sport & Cultural Day was co-hosted at Te Kura Kaupapa Māori a Rohe o Mangere on Friday November 26.

Following the vision of the late Albie Pryor, the Tamariki Sport & Cultural Day began in 1999 on the turf of our founder's many rugby battles - Eden Park.

The purpose of the Tamariki Sport & Cultural Day is to provide tamariki from kura kaupapa (Māori immersion schools) and bilingual units from mainstream schools with an opportunity to take part in sport - including the revival of traditional Māori sports - and cultural activities.

The event provides a link to elite Māori sport role models and the positive contribution they are making for ngā tamariki and the wider community.

The Tamariki Sport & Cultural Day also promotes and fosters a sense of mana (prestige), ihi (inspiration) and wehi (awe) to ngā tamariki.
